

High-Bandwidth Fiber Solution is the Rx for Venice Family Clinic

The mission of Venice Family Clinic is to provide free, quality health care to people in need. Launched in 1970 by volunteer physicians Philip Rossman, MD, founder, and Mayer B. Davidson, MD, co-founder, the Clinic first operated at night in space borrowed from a small, store-front dental office. Today, Venice Family Clinic is the largest free clinic in the nation providing health care to over 25,000 low-income, uninsured and homeless men, women and children who would otherwise lack access to care.

With Venice Family Clinic growing – it is the nation's largest free clinic – and federal mandates associated with electronic health records (EHR) looming, the Clinic's CIO, Fred Hornbeck, knew he needed to find a more reliable network. Hornbeck turned to Time Warner Cable Business Class to provide higher bandwidth to meet the Clinic's skyrocketing data needs.

Today, TWCBC provides Venice Family Clinic a Metro Ethernet solution over the company's fiber-rich network. With speeds up to 20Mbps, the Clinic now has enhanced capabilities to deliver lab results, medical records and other vital information much more efficiently and effectively. This makes the TWCBC solution the perfect prescription for the nation's largest free clinic.
